

Historic, Archive Document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

New Dahlias for 1937
from the Gardens of Richard W. Petrie
P. O. Box 236
Gardena, California
and
Roxbury Dahlia Gardens
37 South Canton Road
East Akron, Ohio

Sec. 562, P.L. & R.

DEC 10 1933
U. S. Department of Agriculture

Miss Newman
U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

Bureau of Plant Industry

Washington

D. C.

"YELLOW MARVEL"

F. D. Giant Exhibition Dahlia of perfect form. Color is deep golden yellow with petals evenly tipped white. Tall strong grower. Long stems, insect resistant foliage. One of the most attractive dahlias we had in our garden. One bloom of this variety was displayed at the Mid-West Show at Cincinnati, Ohio, attracting many admirers with its beautiful form and color

Strong Divisions — $10.

"FRED A. FORTINE"

S. C. Exceptionally large flowers of golden apricot color. Cane like stems which hold the flowers facing. Heavy dark green foliage which is not affected by any insects. Medium height. The dahlia with no regrets.

Strong Divisions — $10.

"FRANCES B. LAW"

I. D. Giant Exhibition Dahlia of rare form and beauty. The color is Lavendar shading to lighter at center of bloom. Perfect formation, strong, long stems holding the flowers at the perfect angle. Healthy strong sturdy plants of medium height which are not affected by insects. Winner at the Akron Dahlia Society show in the undeseminated class.

Strong Divisions — $10.

"ROXBURY'S MYSTERY"

I. D. Giant Exhibition type of unusual color, the general tone being orange red, tipped white. Winner as the best bi-color in the undesseminated class at the Akron Dahlia Society show. A reliable judge of dahlias who had "Roxbury's Mystery" on trial has the following to say of this fine dahlia:

"An extremely unique and beautiful bi-color of odd combination and attractive formation. Blooms large and numerous, strong stems holding the flowers facing. Admired by all visitors. Vigorous growth and medium height. Clean foliage and insect resistant. Good keeper when cut. A refined flower that should make good on the show table.

Strong Divisions — $10.

*To Our Customers
and Friends Everywhere*

The fine dahlias herein described have been produced from Petrie's Select Dahlia Seeds. None better—Few as good. Order now for next year. 25 Seeds—$1.00. 50—$2.00. 100—$4.00. 1000—$30.00. Prices of larger quantities upon request.

Order direct from RICHARD W. PETRIE, P. O. Box 236, Gardena, California, or ROXBURY DAHLIA GARDENS, 37 South Canton Road, East Akron, Ohio.